Dear Thrill Inc. Rigging Customer

This is not fine print but interesting stuff, please keep on reading.

Thrill Inc. Rigging honors customers that are loyal to this loft and grants them a $15.00 discount on their reserve pack job if the preceding pack job was performed in this loft. Our high standards and quality of work makes it easier for the rigger on the next pack job. Also the FAA states that "too-frequent packing shortens the life of the materials. Those experts found the parachutes' porosity was affected by handling and manipulation of the parachute while being packed." Clean pack jobs are a lot easier on the fabric of your reserve and a properly closed container is safer and holds up much better against wear and tear. With the increased time between repacks, it now becomes much more important to have the best pack job possible in your rig to withstand the added stress of the environment.

On that note, please clean your cutaway cables at least once between repacks. This is a dusty environment and a dirty cable can be harder, if not impossible, to pull.

Thank you for taking the time to read this.
